Subject: (Reuters) UK's Brown calls London meeting on Yemen on January 28

LONDON (Reuters) - British Prime Minister Brown has invited key international partners to a meeting to discuss how to counter radicalisation in Yemen following last week's failed attack on a U.S.-bound plane, his office said. Brown will host the event in London on January 28. The high-level meeting will be held in parallel with an international conference on Afghanistan the same day.
