MS,
 The Argentina desk is working this issue on your behalf. They will be in touch with the sender of the letter (Mr. Ramer in California). The letter asks you to enter into a bilateral agreement with Argentina in order to rectify a Locally Employed Staffer's (in Argentina) personal tax predicament. I'm happy to call Brian too, if you like.

Lauren

Hi Hillary,
 Once again I am imposing on our friendship to get to you a matter that is important to my brother-in-law Bruce Ramer and, therefore, important to me. I am enclosing his note to me just so you can read how he really talks! I know his relationship with his friend [REDACTED] and can attest to the personal nature of his appeal. Thank you for whatever attention you give to this which, by my understanding, seems to be a simple matter of justice. Alas, nothing is simple. All the best, Brian

Brian, I so appreciate your willingness to get my letter (attached, with attachments) into Hilary's hands.

This is purely an act of love for my friend [REDACTED]. As I say in the letter to her, I am NOT acting as an attorney (or for any organization--see end of my letter), but only for a friend who is getting screwed (not the terminology of the letter).

You are more than welcome to read all of the enclosures. Naturally.

The attachments to this email should be: Ramer letter to Secretary Clinton, with an attachment of the letter from [REDACTED] tax lawyer (and three official attachments thereto--a letter from the IRS to the Argentine Embassy, a revenue ruling and a certification issued this year by the State Department.

My letter contains a brief summary of the situation and argument.

This is, as I said, very meaningful to me. Thank you for helping in an indispensable way.

Love to the Greenspun clan. Bruce
