Spoke to Geoff Moerrell, he's talking to Gates about signing jointly. He's worried that the Pentagon won't be able to swallow State's language, but he's looking at our draft. In any event, they are nowhere near submitting something, let alone for tomorrow. Until he gets back to me, we're on hold - which as Dan noted is good considering Jim's concerns.

While we're re-evaluating processes, Geoff made an interesting observation. He said that Tauscher and Rich Verma [redacted] to discuss the missile defense rollout, but nobody from State PA was there. But DoD and others in the room had their PA people (including Geoff). It's in large part because no State communicator was present and looped in that the op-ed hit the snags it has once we all saw it.
