

RELEASE IN PART B6
-------------------------------------

---

From: H <hrod17@clintonemail.com>
Sent: Thursday, May 17, 2012 11:09 PM
To: 'Russorv@state.gov'
Subject: Fw: For S

Pls print.

---

From: Reines, Philippe I [mailto:reinesp@state.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, May 16, 2012 09:31 AM
To: H
Cc: Shapiro, Andrew J <ShapiroA@state.gov>
Subject: Fw: For S

Sounds like you put on quite a show...

---

From: Bash, Jeremy CIV SD
Sent: Wednesday, May 16, 2012 07:32 AM
To: Reines, Philippe I
Subject: For S

B6

Philippe, please send this along to Secretary Clinton.

Madam Secretary,

We can't get a word in edgewise this morning because all of our 4-Stars won't stop talking about how much they enjoyed your presentation yesterday. You really wowed them –with your substantive knowledge of their areas of responsibility, your humor, and your personal connections to so many of them (Odierno, McRaven, Mattis, et al). I don't think we've ever had a Secretary of State that is as close to the Combatant Commanders, Joint Chiefs, and Service Secretaries as you are, Ma'am.

We also loved the way you ribbed General Schwartz about the airplane friggin's maintenance problems. Welcome to our world. On our last flight home from Chile, we had to ditch our vaunted 747 – the one that's supposed to protect us during a nuclear war – for a C-17. It was a looong flight.

Take care, and on behalf of Secretary Panetta, thank you again for helping make our day yesterday.

For me, I'll be tamping down hallway chatter this morning about who might make the best next SecDef ...

Jeremy Bash

The Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense