

RELEASE IN PART
B6

From: Balderston, Kris M <BalderstonKM@state.gov>
Sent: Thursday, September 24, 2009 5:34 AM
To: H
Subject: Re: Question and Ireland

Certainly.

----- Original Message -----

From: H <HDR22@clintonemail.com>
To: Balderston, Kris M
Sent: Thu Sep 24 00:04:17 2009
Subject: Re: Question and Ireland

Can you come over in the morning early-7:30-to do these mtgs w me?

----- Original Message -----

From: Balderston, Kris M <BalderstonKM@state.gov>
To: H
Sent: Wed Sep 23 23:40:04 2009
Subject: Re: Question and Ireland

NONE!! First off we can't take TARP money and the ones that have paid it back have said no - Goldman, Morgan Stanley, and JP Morgan Chase. Judging from the chats w my friends at the banks, I think they all got together and decided not to do it.

In the last two days we recd $1M from Fed Ex, $2M from VISA and $3M from P&G. That gets us to $41M. I think we are close to another $9M. EB and I had a good chat w McGraw-Hill today.

Just saw Sean Woodward and heard you were mtg with the Irish parties in the am. He was quite distressed after their mtg w PM Gordon Brown this eve. Robinson very "nit-picky". You may want to chat w him prior to the mtg. He had thghts on how you could be helpful to the cause. His # is

----- Original Message -----

From: H <HDR22@clintonemail.com>
To: Balderston, Kris M
Sent: Wed Sep 23 22:52:38 2009
Subject: Question

Which banks have contributed to the Expo?

B6