Dear Madame Secretary:

More than 3 month after reachina historic summit agreements on September 27, [redacted] Squabbling over security [redacted] and deepening unease and dissension in each country have kept the two more at loggerheads than cooperation. Ethiopia's Prime Minister Hailemariam, along with Thabo Mbeki, convened another summit January 4-5 [redacted] But [redacted] uncertainties remain. Armed clashes have fortunately remained few and far between, [redacted] Another set of meetings between the political and military chiefs that begins January 13, and the AU Summit at the end of January present [redacted] the next best opportunities to make progress.

Summitry is not enough. [redacted]

AUHIP Returns. Mbeki had withdrawn from active mediation after the summit, [redacted] I appealed to him to come back into the situation [redacted] The January 4-5 summit, which he and Hailemariam arranged, appears however to be a triumph of process over substance, [redacted]
