Subject: Re: New Executive Order on Global Development Council - Under Embargo until Thursday

Jake and Cheryl,

For your situational awareness – Cindy and I went to an NSS meeting today where it was announced that the President has just signed an Executive Order establishing a Global Development Council, which will be a group of up to 12 experts drawn from academia, non-profits/foundations, civil society and private industry, plus the Secretaries of State, Defense, Treasury, USAID Admin and MCC CEO as non-voting members. The plan to establish a Council was announced in the PPD. [redacted]

The Council’s mission is to advise the President, through the NSS/NEC, on global development policy, including public-private partnerships, innovative and scalable approaches to development, best practices for R&D, and long-term solutions to strategic development issues. USAID is to provide funding and administrative support for the Council. USAID will appoint an Executive Director who serve as a liaison to the Administrator and the EOP, and consult with relevant executive departments, agencies and offices on matters and activities pertaining to the Council.
