

RELEASE IN PART
B6

From: Cheryl Mills [redacted]
Sent: Tuesday, November 24, 2009 9:14 PM
To: H
Subject: FW: Wow

B6

fyi

-----Original Message-----

From: Minyon Moore [redacted]
Sent: Tuesday, November 24, 2009 8:23 AM
To: Maggie Williams; Capricia Penavic Marshall; Cheryl Mills
Subject: Wow

"He had little record but lots of rhetoric -- much of it morally stirring and beautifully written," Richard Cohen writes in his Washington Post column. "As president, though, he has tried so hard to be the un-George Bush that the former president's overweening moralism -- his insistence on seeing things as either black or white -- has become an Obama gray. Human rights in general has been treated as if it's a Republican idea. Obama should reread his Philadelphia speech. He'll find a good man there."

<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2009/11/23/AR2009112302897.html>