WOW. Last time I saw you was three years ago this month. So much extraordinary work since then!

I can't imagine you have a minute or that you might be in DC next week but figured if I didn't ask I wouldn't know. I am in DC next Friday - before starting to drive [redacted]

This email is as much to say happy holidays (if you get to even notice there are holidays) as it is to think we might say a quick hello in person.

Much affection, Gina

P.S. Bumped into [redacted] and am trying to convince her to think about going on the Planned Parenthood board.
