To close loop on calls:

I also connected with jake. He logged call into ops at 12:57. Ops sent out a general email at 12:59. Normally, they would also call to alert that they were calling house which they didn't do. You happened to call in and so they connected you to jake. As for kouchner, its a basic email delay. I emailed you at 12:28 asking if we could do call at 12:45. Your yes response came at 1:04 after you talked to ops. I didn't confirm kouchner until after I heard from you.

I emailed back yes but ops told me they didn't hear from you so didn't make call which I just ordered them to do. Also Jake said hed been trying to reach me and ops said they had called you about that too. This is not a good system.
