B6

Mike--

Thanks for hosting the storming brains! I look forward to the work ahead. All the best, Hillary

Madame Secretary --

We just had a good dinner brainstorming session [REDACTED] regarding what the Administration's development legacy might be seven years from now.

B5

It was the sort of discussion we should have had at the beginning of the various processes. I think we generated some good and creative ideas and look forward to teeing them up for discussion by the Deputies and Principals in the coming days.

Thank you for your patience. We'll get there. In the meantime, if you have any concerns, please let me know.
