The COM conference was just fabulous and the Secretary so darn impressive – by FAR the standout star of the week. [REDACTED]

B6

I found the reports and follow up conversations from the breakout sessions extremely useful. And who could not love the presentation on "purpose"? If someone videoed him at the conference, I would love a copy to share with my staff. And the White House – fires blazing, band playing, champagne flowing AND AND AND the President himself taking individual pictures. You would have to be a lot older and a lot more jaded than me not to have been impressed! And I was. But I thought the shining hour came with the SS answering questions from the audience – so professional and competent. I am so proud to work for her.

So THANK YOU – for everything.
